she should become sane, and who is now in York gaol for trespasses in the king's stew of Fosse, has done the king's pleasure for the said trespasses.

June 5. Grant to Christiana de Mariscis, that she may acquire her lands in Westminster. Ireland, which are detained from her, and dispose of them to her own ad-advantage; notwithstanding a former covenant between the king and Eleanor the late queen-consort and her, that as soon as she had deraigned her right thereto, she would enfeoff them thereof, and that they in exchange would grant to her and Isabella de Vynoys, lands of the same yearly value in England, for their lives.

By pet. of C.

June 7. Appointment of John le Breton to the custody, during pleasure, of the Westminster. city of London, answering at the Exchequer for the issues thereof.

June 6. Grant to Nicholas son of Bricius, an Irishman, that for his life he shall Westminster. use the law and custom of England in Ireland; and that he shall not in future be brought under any other laws and customs, but shall enjoy English liberty in death and life. By petition before the king and council.

June 8. Ordinance by the king and council, on behalf of masters of ships, in the Westminster. same words as above, June 3, with the addition of the words "the said goods not to be removed from the places where they are deposited until the merchants have found security." [See page 18.]

June 10. Grant to John Alard of Wynelese of a ship, late of Robert Brede of Westminster. Wynchelese, forfeited to the king by reason of his trespasses at sea.

June 10. Remission to Thomas abbot of Robertsbridge, and his successors, of the Westminster. homage for the manor of Lambreherst, which the king heretofore exacted from Mainardus, sometime abbot of Robertsbridge, under the belief that the said manor was held of the barony of Ledes, whereof the king and Eleanor, the late queen-consort, were enfeoffed by Robert de Crevequer, whereas it has been found before the king and council that it is held in frank almoin of the said Robert, so that no homage is due.
