prior of that house, which was of the patronage of Guy de Bello Campo, late earl of Warrewyk, tenant in chief, and is in the king's hands by reason of the minority of the heir. By p.s.

MEMBRANE 10.

Oct. 19. Mandate, for the purpose of keeping inviolate the peace with France, to the mayor and jurats of the city of Bayonne and all men as well mariners as others of that city, as the king has heard that they with a great and fully equippt fleet cruising about the parts of Normandy have, without valid cause and unreasonably, attacked merchants and others of Normandy and of other parts of France, plundered them and inflicted other losses on them, and also that the men of those parts and of other adjacent maritime parts are preparing a great fleet against them, out of which, if the matter proceed, warlike disturbances and other losses may follow, that they are not, under pain of forfeiture, to prepare for or carry out any attacks against the Normans or others of the realm of France, or do anything by reason of which a disturbance may be caused. The king has written to the lieutenants of Philip, king of France, the king himself being absent, to restrain the Normans and others of France from committing like acts. They are to transmit all claims for losses to the king who will provide a remedy, or at least a way by which the matter may be peaceably settled between them and others of the realm of France. By K.
