pursuant to [27] Edward III [stat. 2, cap. 13] of salvage of goods, not being 'wreck,' coming to land from ships broken by tempest at sea or other mischance, to make inquisitions touching a complaint by Marbot, attorney of merchants of Castile, Genoa, Placencia and Portugal, that whereas the said merchants laded at Lescluses in Flanders a ship of Bayonne called la Seint Marie de Burgh, whereof John Laurence was master, with cloths, vessels of weight, silver in plate and money called 'Lowys grosses' and gold in money of divers coinage and the ship on its voyage to Spain was accidentally broken on the sands before the port of Sandwich, many men and mariners of the ship coming to land alive and sound, some men and mariners of Sandwich coming in boats to the ship carried away the cargo and had their will of it, without making restitution to the merchants or their servants, although requested to do so; and to inform themselves by this and other means of the names of those into whose hands the cargo came and in whose hands it now is, and how much is detained and where, to arrest the goods and deliver them to the said merchants or their attorney, on proof of ownership and after satisfaction made to those who salved it, and do justice in the premises; also to arrest all those found contrariant or rebellious in this and imprison them until further order, The said constable is to summon jurors from the liberty of the Cinque Ports. By K. & C.
