and gratuitous service and for the great place which he held with him, especially in the battle of Poyters where, by the assignment of the prince himself, he was intendant on his own person, of 40l. yearly for life at the Exchequer of Chester; and (2) letters patent of the same Edward, sealed with the seal of the Exchequer of Chester and dated 26 August in the king's fortieth year, granting the said William, for good service after the former gift, another 40 marks yearly for life at the said Exchequer beyond the above-mentioned 40l.

For ½ mark paid in the hanaper. By p.s.

Whereas Ingram, lord of Coucy and earl of Bedford, by charter granted the king the reversion of all the manors held for life by Joan, late the wife of John de Coupeland, which should revert to him and his heirs, together with all knights' fees, advowsons, parks, forests, chases, woods, warrens, fisheries, moors, marshes, turbaries, meadows, feedings, pastures, services of tenants, free and bond, liberties, regalities, escheats, wards, reliefs, marriages, commodities, profits and other appurtenances whatsoever; the king, of special grace, has regranted the said reversion to the earl and Isabel, his wife, in tail male.

Pardon to Geoffrey Hogge of Leycestre of the king's suit for the death of Stephen Lorymer; the king having learned by the record of Thomas de Ingelby and his fellows, justices appointed to deliver the gaol of Notyngham, that he killed him in self-defence.

Appointment, during pleasure, of John Edward as clerk of the works at the castle of Ledes and the parks of Langele and Ledes, and to take hewers of stone, carpenters and other workmen, put them to the said works, provide stone, timber and other necessaries, and carriage for the same, for the king's money to be paid by him, make all payments by the view and testimony of Thomas, prior of Ledes, controller and surveyor of the said works, bring back workmen withdrawing themselves from the works, commit to prison all contrariants until they find security to serve in the said works, make inquisition in the county, where need shall be, touching stone, timber or other necessaries taken away or eloigned from the works and have them brought back, and sell the branches and other residue of the trees provided for the works.

Commission, during pleasure, to the said Thomas, prior of Ledes, to survey the said works and control all payments made by the said John Edward, and to do all things pertaining to the office of surveyor and controller.

Grant, for life or until further order, to Richard de Irlond, the king's surgeon, of 40 marks yearly at the Exchequer.

Licence for one year, for John Colf, master of a ship called la Nicholas of Fowy, to go with the said ship and the mariners therein on a pilgrimage to Santiago in Spain.