1368. Membrane 16—cont.

of the issues of the said castle until the king shall have provided them with 11s. of land or rent, or shall have otherwise ordered for their estate.

By K.

April 26. Licence, on the petition of Edmund Hurlebatte of Lenn, for him to load 10 lasts of ox hides in the ports of Newcastle and Halyeland, and to carry them to Lenn or London to make his profit thereof; Thomas Faukes, Thomas de Banyngham of Lenn, Jordan de Barton and John de Pykenham of London having mainperned for him in Chancery that he will not take the said lasts without the realm, and that they will satisfy the king of the forfeiture of the said lasts and of the ship wherein they are loaded if he does so, and of the custom of the said lasts if they be lost on the sea.

The like to the following by the mainprise of the persons named:—

Laurence de Reppes, merchant of Lenn, to load 8 lasts in the port of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and to carry them to Lenn or elsewhere within the realm, by mainprise of Geoffrey de Neuton of London, 'vyntor,' Roger Long and William Sharpynge of London.

Henry Penhishurst, merchant, to load 10 lasts in the same port, and carry them to London or elsewhere within the realm, by mainprise of John Bretton of the county of Northampton, John Chirchman of London, and William Roche of Ripon of the county of York.

Thomas Banyngham, merchant of Lenn, to load 12 lasts in the ports of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Halyeland, or Berwick-upon-Tweed, and to carry them to London, Lenn or Yarmouth, or elsewhere within the realm, by mainprise of John Leveryngton, John de Ludham and William de Snetesham, co. Norfolk.

John de Uppeston of Yarmouth, merchant, to load 10 lasts in the port of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and to carry them to London or elsewhere within the realm, by mainprise of John Aleyn, Thomas Lymburgh, Henry de Borewell and John Brotherston of the county of Norfolk.

William Hatecall, merchant, to load 5 lasts in the same port and to carry them as above, by mainprise of John del Chaumbre of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and William Shoute of the county of Northumberland.

John del Chaumbre of Newcastle-upon-Tyne to load 5 lasts in the same port and to carry them as above, by mainprise of Thomas de Blakeston and John de Preston, merchant, of the county of Northumberland.

April 20. Appointment, during pleasure, of the king's clerk, Adam de Hertyngdon, as clerk of the works in the manor and park of Henleye, and to take hewers of stone, carpenters and other workmen for the said works, put them to the works at the king's wages, provide stone,