Nov. 26. Commission to Robert de Thorpe, 'chivaler,' John de Cavendissh, Westminster. John Pyel and John Geffron, pursuant to a complaint by merchants and others of the counties of Leicester, Derby, Northampton, Bedford and Huntingdon that very many weirs, mills and stanks have been newly placed and erected in the water of Husee between the towns of Huntingdon and St. Ives, through which ships and boats used to pass with victuals and other merchandise, so that by the erection thereof the stream is totally turned aside and obstructed,— to make inquisition in the county of Huntingdon what weirs, mills and stanks have been there erected in and after the time of the king's grandfather, to have all such removed according to the late ordinance made at Westminster, to compel and distrain all persons who are held to remove the same to do so by any means, to arrest and commit to prison all who are contrariant in the matter, to do all things necessary for the cleansing of the said water and to hear and determine the premises. By C.
