1371.

June 2. Westminster. Presentation of John de Weston, parson of the church of Gelneston, in the diocese of Norfolk, to the church of Westbrigge, in the same diocese, in the king’s gift by reason of the keeping of the land and heir of John de Bardolf, who held in chief, being in his hand; on an exchange of benefices with Thomas Stoner.

March 21. Westminster. On the petition of the prior and convent of Roucestre shewing that their predecessors obtained the patronage of the church of Boxlee of the grant of the king’s progenitors and appropriated the same with their licence and by grant of the then archbishop of Canterbury and confirmation of the pope, and afterwards, at the instance and compulsion of Theobald, archbishop of Canterbury, the then bishop of Roucestre and prior of Roucestre jointly presented a clerk of the said Theobald to that church, after whose presentation the prior and convent had nothing in the said church beyond the presentation thereto in common with the bishop of Roucestre and a yearly pension of 60s. granted them with the assent of Theobald on the admission of his said clerk, until they were restored to the possession of the church; and that afterwards Simon de Islep, late archbishop of Canterbury, predecessor of William, now archbishop, recognising the ancient right which they had in the church, restored it to them with the assent of William, then bishop of Roucestre; and praying the king to pardon the trespasses done in this matter, confirm the restitution of the church and otherwise provide for their security: the king pardons the trespasses and confirms the restitution.
