Membrane 29.

Aug. 12. Whereas the king, by letters patent dated 18 August in the thirty-third year, granted licence for Roger de Mortuo Mari, then earl of March, to enfeoff Ralph Spigurnell, knight, John de Bisshopeston, clerk, John Laundels and John Goure of the castle and lordship of Dynbeig, the cantreds of Roos, Reweynok and Keymergh, and the commote of Dynmayl, in Wales, held in chief, and for them to grant the same to him, Philippa, his wife, and the heirs of his body, with remainder to his right heirs, and the earl accordingly enfeoffed the said Ralph and others, but died before they had made for him and Philippa estate as above, leaving his son and heir Edmund under age; and whereas the king’s first-born son Edward, prince of Wales, understanding that the premises were held of him as of his principality of Wales, seized the same into his hand as well because of the said alienation made without his licence as because of the nonage of the heir, and caused a third part thereof to be assigned to Philippa in dower, and she entered into the same; and whereas, afterwards, the said John Laundels being then dead, the prince removed his hand from the remaining two parts and, with the assent of Philippa, the three remaining feoffees entered into the same, and, with the prince’s licence, granted them to Philippa for life, with remainders as above, and thus she is in possession of the said castle &c., without the king’s licence having been obtained; the king has pardoned any trespasses done in this and ratifies her estate in the premises.

Sept. 8. Protection, during pleasure, for the steward, bailiffs, ministers and tenants of the manor of Colweston, co.
