Whereas on Monday after St. Ambrose last William Danyell of Chikewell, co. Essex, came before John Aubrey and John Eiffid, then sheriffs of London, and William de Hockele, coroner thereof, and confessed that he was a robber, having with Henry Bailiff of Hisseburn of the county of Wilts, ‘carpenter,’ and John Blauncheard of Caleys, between St. Peter’s Chains in the king’s forty-seventh year and the Michaelmas following, robbed a carter, whose name he knows not, of 20s. in money by tale in the New Forest, co. Southampton, whereof he had for his share 6s. 8d. and the others the residue, and so he became approver and appealed the said Henry and John of the felony; and also appealed William Ketell of the county of Sussex, merchant at Suthampton, and others called Thomas and John, whose surnames he knows not, of having in his fellowship, about All Saints in the king’s forty-seventh year, robbed three unknown men by Southampton of 40d. in silver by tale, whereof he had for his share 10d. and the others the residue; and also appealed Robert Fekenham of the New Forest, of the county of Southampton, and Henry Bailiff of having with him, about the Purification in the king’s forty-eighth year, at Hampyng between Allesford and Wynecheste, co. Southampton, robbed two
