from Nicholas atte Welde, parson of the church of Derley, John de Par, parson of the church of Rolleston, and John de Asshewell, parson of the church of Makworth, the manor of Okebrok, co. Derby, held in chief, except the lordship, rents and services, and knights' fees in Ambaston and Thurlaston, and entered therein without the king's licence; he, for 10*l.* paid by Anina, has pardoned the trespass, and granted that she shall retain the premises for her life, with remainder to the right heirs of Godfrey.

June 16. Licence, for $\frac{1}{2}$ mark paid to the king by John Cauches, vicar of the Westminster. church of Wantynge, for the alienation in mortmain to him by John Crook of Grove of a void place containing 1 rood of land in Wantynge, called 'Tanheye,' for the enlargement of his manse.

March 5. Grant, during pleasure, to Thomas Aylewy of the keeping of the Westminster. bailiwick of Harewod in the forest of Dene, which Thomas Shortgrove, deceased, had of the king's grant; taking for the keeping the usual wages for the office. By p.s.

June 15. Inspeximus and confirmation of letters patent (in French) of the Westminster. king's deceased son prince Edward, dated under his privy seal at London, 21 July, 27 Edward III, inspecting letters patent (in French) of his late grandmother Queen Isabel, dated at Hertford castle, 6 November, 26 Edward III, granting for life to her yeoman, John de Herlyng, for long service to the king and her, the constablenesship and the keeping of the castle of Rysyngs and the office of being surveyor of her chace there, taking 12*d.* a day of the issues of her manor there by the hands of the bailiffs or the provost for the time being; and confirming the same, in case the castle and manor should come to him by the decease of the said queen. By p.s.

June 16. Whereas it was lately adjudged by the king and council in the Chancery Westminster. that the keeping of Margaret daughter and heir of Nicholas de Layburn, a deaf mute from her birth, and of her lands, should be committed to Thomas, bishop of Carlisle, and Roger de Clifford, to order for these according to the form of the king's letters patent made to them, and she was delivered in court to William de Tunstall and John de Lancastre to be delivered to the bishop and Roger; and whereas, because these last were not in agreement over the ordinance of the said keeping, the king caused Margaret to come before him that he might make provision for her good rule; now by advice of the council and at the petition of her friends, he has committed the keeping of her and her lands to Christopher de Lancastre and Joan, his wife, her mother, by the mainprise of William de Stapelton, William Engayne and John de Appelby of the county of Cumberland, and John de Kirkeby of the county of Westmoreland, under pain of 200*l.*, that they will find sustenance for her according to her estate and will to the utmost of their power preserve her in safety and honour, that in case she be married, she shall not be disparaged, and that they will keep the lands without waste and expend the profits thereof beyond her sustenance on repairs. The king by these presents also appoints the said Christopher and John de Lancastre as her guardians to sue and defend for her during the keeping.
