

1376.

Membrane 18d—cont.

ornaments, by want of care and neglect of the wardens and ministers, and the number of chaplains that ought to be there is said to be diminished and its lands and goods wasted; and to correct all defects found there and punish delinquents according to their deserts, without, however, proceeding so far as the removal of any person, and to do all things that belong to a visitation.

June 26. Commission to Roger de Fulthorp, John Ask, John de Kirkeby, Westminster. John de Surflete, Robert de Ledes, John Lascelles and Richard Drax, to keep the statute of Edward I, [Westminster the Second cap. 47] against taking of salmon out of season, in the waters of Humber, Ouse, Trent, Done, Eire, Derwent, Querf, Nydde, Yore, Swale and Tese, in the counties of York, Nottingham and Lincoln; and to find by inquisition the names of those who are delinquents in this and punish them as the act provides.

MEMBRANE 15d.

June 27. Commission to Henry Percehay, John de Beaumont, John de Westminster. Affeton, William de Brightle and John Assh, to make inquisition in the county of Devon touching an information that John Dobba, William Coula, John Vicary and other evildoers broke the park of Chetelhampton, late of Edward le Despenser, who held in chief, which is in the king's hand among other lands of the said Edward by his death and the nonage of his heir, hunted in it, felled the trees and underwood thereof and carried away the trees, as well as deer from the park; and to send their inquisition into the Chancery without delay.

July 4. Commission of oyer and terminer to Robert Bealknap, Walter de Westminster. Perle, Robert de la Mare and Philip Fitz Waryn, on complaint by Maud Wodehous of Hasshebury that Joan late the wife of John Roche, Robert, parson of the church of Stratfeld Say, and others, at Overweston, co. Wilts, broke her close and house, drove away 12 oxen, worth 20 marks, carried away her goods and assaulted her men and servants. By the chancellor because sealed at another time by fine of  $\frac{1}{2}$  mark.

MEMBRANE 14d.

June 10. Commission to Michael de la Pole, Roger de Fulthorp, Gerard de Westminster. Usflete, Gilbert de Culwen, escheator in the county of York, and Peter de Grymesby, to make an inquisition ad quod damnum in the said county touching a petition to the king by the mayor, bailiffs and commonalty of Kyngeston-upon-Hull that, inasmuch as their town is situated on the shore of the water of Humber on a salt soil, and in dry seasons the inhabitants and their beasts suffer much for lack of fresh water, he will grant them licence to make a dyke 10 feet wide, whereby a full and constant stream of fresh water may be had for their town from the town of Anlaby, where there is abundance of such water, on the north side of the king's highway between the said towns, which way is everywhere 40 feet wide, as is said, and to narrow the said way to that extent, without impeachment or offence of the king or any other, on condition that thenceforward it be not lawful for any to make any gutter or conduit across the said way to diminish the course of the water of the dyke, and that the mayor, bailiffs and