Grant to the nuns of Wynteneye that in times of voidance the escheator or other ministers of the king shall not intermeddle in the custody of the priory, but that sub-prioress and nuns shall have free administration of the goods of the house, saving the custody of any lands held in chief.

This grant is made for the security of the nuns, as it has been found by an inquisition taken by William Trussel, escheator on this side Trent, that they have not been accustomed in the past to apply to the king for letters of licence to elect, or to obtain the royal assent to the election when made, and that the king has never in times of voidance had the custody of the priory or received anything from the temporalities.
