Feb. 15. Kennington. By letters patent the king lately pardoned to John Haklut, king's yeoman, steward of the forest of Roteland, 12l. required of him by summons of the Exchequer, for arrears of the farm of the woods (broillorum) of Roteland, and the said John has now made petition setting forth that the said 12l. were required from Robert Mallore and not from him, and praying that in recompense of those 12l. the king would allow that sum from 37l. 12s. 8d. due by him for arrears of the farm of lands in Gayton, late of Theobald de Gayton, tenant in chief of Edward II. lately committed to his custody by the king. The king, in consideration of the surrender by the petitioner of the said letters patent to be cancelled and on certificate by the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer that he owes nothing for arrears of such farm of the said woods, has pardoned him the 12l. as prayed.

By letter of the Keeper.

Feb. 12. Westminster. Exemplification under the seal now in use of letters patent dated 18 March, 11 Edward III. which have been accidentally lost, being a writ de intendendo directed to the tenants of the castle, manor and honor of Eye and the manors of Thorndon and Hanle, in favour of Robert de Ufford, to whom the same castle, manors and honor had been granted on his creation as earl of Suffolk.

Feb. 2. Kennington. Pardon, in consideration of good service in parts beyond the seas, to Adam de Dyseworth, for all felonies and trespasses whether in the time of Edward II. or of the present king, and of any consequent outlawries.

By p.s.
