By letters patent the king lately appointed Thomas Wogan to hold the custody of the prise of his wines in Ireland, late of James le Botiller, earl of Ormond, tenant in chief, during minority of the earl's heir, in such manner as the said James held it in his lifetime, and granted to him for life 20l. yearly out of the issues of such prize; and now the said Thomas gives him to understand that the earl had only a life estate in the said prize whereby the grant of the same to him cannot duly take effect. The king has therefore granted to him the prize of his wines in Ireland, in such manner as the earl held the same, for twelve years, at which time the earl will come of age, and that he shall receive for life 20l. yearly out of the issues
