Whereas the king, after inquisition ad quod damnum taken by Thomas de Metham, late escheator beyond Trent, lately granted licence for the alienation in mortmain by Clement de Skelton and Matilda his wife of fourteen messuages, 80 acres of land, 10 acres of meadow and 66s. 8d. of rent, in Carlisle and Skelton, held in chief, to a chaplain to celebrate divine service daily in Skelton church, as in the letters patent is more fully contained; the said Clement and Matilda have now made petition that, in lieu of the 66s. 8d. of rent, they may grant to the chaplain and his successors two mills and 24 acres of land in Skelton, likewise held in chief, and the king, after inquisition ad quod damnum taken by Hugh de Moriceby, escheator in the counties of Cumberland, Westmoreland and Lancaster, and because Clement has surrendered the letters patent previously made to him, has granted licence for them to assign the said mills and land as prayed.
