in North Wales, the castle and borough of Haverford with appurtenances, in South Wales, the farm of Worcester and two other small farms in the county of Worcester, the farm which the abbot and convent of Malmesbury render for the town of Malmesbury and three hundreds pertaining thereto, the hundred of Gertre, and the farm which the heirs of Roger Boler render for the hundred of Framelond, co. Leicester, the farm of Cambridge with the farm of the increment and five other small farms there, the farm of Colechester, co. Essex, the farm which Henry de Cobham renders for the castle and city of Rochester, co. Kent, the farm of the borough of Bedford, 10l. assigned to lady Lestraunge excepted, the farm of 200l. which Ralph de Nevill renders for the manors of Penreth and Sourby, co. Cumberland, which he holds for ten years of the king's grant, and the manors themselves on the expiration of the said term as of the said value, and the farm of the city of Carlisle and of the mills with a fishery in the water of Eden, and whereas afterwards of his more abundant grace he granted that she should hold the same with the knights' fees, advowsons, wards, marriages, escheats, spacious, parks, assarts, and purprestures and should have therein return of writs and fines, ransoms and amercements of her tenants, issues forfeit, year, day and waste, forfeitures and murders, chattels of felons and fugitives, and fines, ransoms and amercements adjudged before justices; for the filial affection which he has for his said mother he has granted that she shall have all fines, ransoms and amercements of all men and tenants of and in the castles, honor, manors, commot, towns, lands, hundreds, forests, chaces and other places aforesaid and their fees, as well as in the manors of Eastern and Wotton, co. Wilts, which the king has lately granted to her for life and in all places aforesaid wherein the farms and rents aforesaid arise, and in the city of Norwich the farm whereof he has lately granted to her for life, and issues forfeit and what pertains to him of year, day and waste, and murder, as also fines, ransoms, and amercements. By p.s.

Mandate to the treasurer and barons of the exchequer to cause these letters to be enrolled at the exchequer and to permit the queen to enjoy all liberties specified therein.

March 16.
Tower of London.
Grant for life to James des Armes of the custody of the king's gardens at Westminster and the Tower of London, receiving for that custody as much as John de Standerwyk, deceased, received for the same. By p.s.

April 6.
Westminster.
Richard son of Henry de Maundevill, going to Ireland, has letters nominating Thomas Wake of Blyseworth and John de Granesle the elder as his attorneys in England, for two years. Thomas de Cotyngham received the attorneys.

April 6.
Westminster.
Whereas Robert de Nevill, who had a grant from the king of the office of the brokerage of wines bought for his use, for life, has voluntarily surrendered the same, the king has granted to his yeoman, William de Clopton, the said office for life with the fees and all other appurtenances thereof; and because the said William stays continually in his service in the household, he has granted as a special grace that he may have attorneys in the office in all places where he cannot be present in person. By p.s.

April 6.
Westminster.
Pardon, because he is going on the king's service upon the sea, to Richard Stephan, king's mariner, of his outlawry in the county of Kent on account of a trespass committed against Richard Liveryk of Sandwich; on condition that he surrender to prison and stand his trial if the latter will implead him of the trespass. By p.s.