of the late or present king had not been obtained therein; at the supplication of Master John de Thoresby, king’s clerk, the king has pardoned all trespasses herein and granted licence for the master and scholars to retain the same.

June 15.
Westminster.
Licence for John Basset to encloseth Thomas de Beghlay of the manor of Haddon, lieth in chief, and for him to re-grant the same to the said John and Margaret, his wife, in tail, with remainder to the right heirs of John.
By fine of 100s. Derby.

June 16.
Westminster.
Promise to the king’s merchants, Thomas de Melchebourn, John de Astwyk, Roger de Wolsthorpe, Henry de Tyddiswell, William de Melchebourn, Walter de Chirton, Adam Lucas, citizen of London, and Walter Prest the younger of Melton Monbray, merchants of England, who at his request have become bound to Andrew Aubrey, citizen and pepperer of London, in £40 to be paid at All Saints for purveyances made for John, duke of Brittany, for his present passage to Brittany, to save them harmless in respect of such bond; and that in case the duke shall not pay the debt to Andrew at the said term the king will cause immediate payment of what is due to him to be made.
By K. & C.

MEMBRANE 4.

June 2.
Westminster.
Pardon to John de Geyton of his outlawry in the county of Suffolk for non-appearance before the justices of the Bench to answer touching a plea of Andrew le Mellere and Margery, his wife, of trespass against the latter, on certificate by John de Stonore, chief justice, that he has now surrendered to the Flete prison.

May 18.
Westminster.
Grant, at the request of Henry de Lancaster, earl of Derby, and for his own good service, to Stephen de Crophull, king’s yeoman, of the office of marshal in the Common Bench, in Ireland, to hold for life with the wages and fees pertaining to the office, if the king have not already granted the same to any other for life.
By p.s.

June 6.
Westminster.
Whereas John Brocas, knight, John Elys, John Tuscanam, Bernard Guiliam of Druges, Raymond de Casse, John de Mounbecon, Peter Arnold de Maucon, Gerald de Lybourn, John de Mounbery and Arnold de Puch, merchants of Bordeaux, lately shipped in that city for London 301 tuns of wine, in two ships called ‘cogges’ of Flanders, and the wine was taken on the sea off the coast of Brittany, where the king then was with his army, by his ministers for his use and by his order was brought to Hennebon in Brittany and was afterwards stolen by his mariners, and whereas the king promised the merchants to pay the price of the wine amounting to £60, to wit 10s. for each tun, when he came to England, but as yet they have had no payment, to their great damage; he grants that, as soon as William Casse and some other merchants of the duchy of Aquitaine, to whom he has granted the custom of 2s. due on every tun of wine brought to England by them and other merchants of the duchy, in the ports of London, Boston, Bristol, Sandwich, Southampton, Toppesham, Great Yarmouth and Kyngeston-upon-Hull, until they be satisfied of certain sums due for wine taken from them for his use, they shall receive by view and testimony of his butler or his deputy in the said ports 2s. on every tun of wine which the said John Brocas and his fellows or any other merchants of the duchy shall bring within the realm, out of the custom of 2s. which merchant strangers owe to him on wine imported,