MEMBRANE 3.

Whereas Edward II by letters patent granted licence for the prior and Friars Preachers at Norwich to acquire in mortmain land 500 feet long and 100 feet broad, adjoining their dwelling, to build a church and houses on and to enlarge their cemetery and close, and they by virtue of such licence acquired from the commonalty of Norwich, a lane 169 feet long and 12 feet broad; from Robert le Fere, a plot of land 40 feet long and 24 feet broad; from Thomas de Boton, a plot of land 131 feet long and 81 feet broad; from Silvester Sparwe, a plot of land 131 feet long and 60 feet broad; from William But, a plot of land 98 feet long and 44 feet broad; from Andrew de Dailyng, a plot of land 60 feet long and 22 feet broad; from John de Henghaum, a plot of land 85 feet long and 85 feet broad; from Adam de Blyklyng, a plot of land 32 feet long and 20 feet broad; from Juliana daughter of Adam Beneyt, a cottage 30 feet long and 20 feet broad; from John But, a plot of land 40 feet long and 80 feet broad; from William But, a plot of land 60 feet long and 15 feet broad; and from Sarah late the wife of Ralph le Fysshemongher, Alexander de Sparham and Richard de Holesdon, executors of the will of the said Ralph, a plot of land 125 feet long and 30 feet broad; and entered into the same before inquisitions thereof had been returned into the chancery of the said king or of the present king; which lane is held of the king in chief as in burgage, and the plots and cottage are not held of him, and the whole contain 218 feet of land in length and 146 feet in breadth, as appears by inquisition taken by John Howard, escheator in the county of Norfolk; the king, to give effect to the grant of his father, has pardoned the trespass in this behalf and granted licence for the prior and Friars to retain the lane, cottage and lands in part satisfaction of such grant. By p.s.

Whereas Roger de Faudon, to whom Edward II, by letters patent, granted 10 marks at the exchequer yearly, for life, by deed has granted to Roger de Chastrefold, clerk, and his executors or assigns, the right and claim
