Protection with clause rogamus for the warden of the chapel on the bridge of Bedford, and attorneys and proctors whom he is sending about the realm to collect alms for the fabric of the chapel.

Grant to the Friars Preachers of Langley, on their petition setting forth that they do not have prompt payment of the 91l. 5s. at the exchequer yearly, assigned to them by the king, but endure long anxious suits and labours about the same, whereby the new work begun there and the enclosure of the king's park are in many ways retarded, of the farm of 80l. which the prior of Hermodesworth, an alien, pays for the priory now in the king's hands on account of the war with France, and it is the king's will that they shall continue to receive the remaining 11l. 5s. at the exchequer where they shall also be satisfied of any arrears of the larger sum. Grant to them also, in aid of the said work and enclosure, of 20l., which the good men of Oxford render yearly at the exchequer, to be received by the hands of the mayor and bailiffs of that town, during pleasure.

Licence for the alienation in mortmain by John de Whatton, clerk, to the abbot and convent of Lesnes, in satisfaction of 7l. of the 20l. yearly of land and rent which they had the licence of Edward II to acquire, of the reversion of the manor of Nethewode, expectant on the demise of Joan late the wife of William Faunt, which manor is not held of the king and is of the clear yearly value of 100s. as appears by inquisition taken by John de Vielston, escheator in the county of Kent, to find a secular chaplain to celebrate divine service daily at the altar of St. Mary in their church, for the good estate of the said John and Joan, for their souls when they are dead, and for the souls of William Faunt and their relations and benefactors.

Prohibition to all ecclesiastical persons from prosecuting appeals, or bringing within the realm bulls and instruments prejudicial to the crown, in derogation of the judgment of the justices of the Bench whereby the king recovered his presentation to the church of Hadenham, and the possession of the said church by Bartholomew de Bourne, king's clerk, who holds by presentation of the true patron made after the death of John de Martham who was presented by the king to the said church after such recovery; as the king is informed that some persons are continuing against the said Bartholomew processes begun in the court of Rome in the lifetime of the said John to annul the judgment.

Grant, at the request of Henry de Lancastre, earl of Derby, and after inquisition ad good damnum taken by Thomas de Aspale, escheator in the county of Southampton, to the prior and convent of Motesfount that they and their successors shall have the amends of breaches of the assize of bread and ale of all their men and tenants in Motesfount, Tymberbury, Kynggessombourn, Langestok, Doene and Wollop, in that county, which, as appears by the inquisition, they had of the grant of William le Brewere the elder from the time of king John, and of their men and tenants in Elyngg and Durle in the parish of Elyngg, in the same county, which they had of the grant of the same king.

Presentation of Oliver de Dynelay to the church of Haddele, in the diocese of London.
