Edited by HENRY THOMAS RILEY, M.A., Barrister-at-Law. 1863-1876.

In the first two volumes is a History of England, from the death of Henry III. to the death of Henry V., by Thomas Walshingham, Precentor of St. Alban's.

In the 3rd volume is a Chronicle of English History, attributed to William de Rhinanger, who lived in the reign of Edward I. an account of transactions attending the award of the kingdom of Scotland to John Balliol, 1296-1297, also attributed to William de Rhinanger, but on no surer foundation: a short Chronicle of English History, 1290, 1291, and 1292.

In the 4th volume is a Chronicle of English History, 1290 to 1292, by John de Triclowe, a monk of St. Albans, and a continuation of Triclowe's Annals, 1290, 1291, 1292, and an account of the benefactors of St. Albans, written in the early part of the 13th century. The 5th, 6th, and 7th volumes contain a history of the Abbey of St. Albans, 590 to 1411, mainly compiled by Thomas Walshingham, with a Continuation.

The 8th and 9th volumes, in continuation of the Annals, contain a Chronicle probably of John Amundesham, a monk of St. Albans.

The 10th and 11th volumes relate especially to the acts and proceedings of Abbots Whethamstede, Allen, and Wallingford.

The 12th volume contains a compendious History of England to the reign of Henry V. and of Normandy in early times, also by Thomas Walshingham, and dedicated to Henry V.

The Chronicle of Evesham illustrates the history of that important monastery from 690 to 1418. Its chief feature is an autobiography, which makes us acquainted with the inner daily life of a great abbey. Interspersed are many notices of general, personal, and local history.

Richard of Cirencester's history is in four books, and gives many charters in favour of Westminster Abbey, and a very full account of the lives and miracles of the saints, especially of Edward the Confessor, whose reign occupies the fourth book. A treatise on the Coronation, by William of Snivill, a monk of Westminster, fills book ii. c. 3.
