is found in the Great Roll of 18 Edward III that this demand is for 27s. 9d. of such ninth in Kneveton and 9s. of the same in Flyntham as charged in the Great Roll of 15 Edward III, under Item Not', and the roll of particulars of the account of the prior of Thurgerton, assessor and seller of the said ninth in the county of Nottingham, but it is not found at the exchequer that any wool is required of him.

In the rolls of the taxation of the [temporalities] annexed to his spiritualities it is found that the abbot has in the diocese of York, archdeaconry of Nottingham, such temporalities in Newerk and Kneveton, which in 20 Edward I were taxed at 69s. on which he and his predecessors from that time have paid tenths with the clergy. Asked whether he has anything to shew for himself as to the particular taxation in Newerk and Kneveton, he says no, but that the temporalities for which he was assessed to the ninth in Kneveton and Flyntham are included in the 69s. and he had no temporalities in Kneveton and Flyntham in 14 Edward III other than those he had in 20 Edward I. Therefore let a jury come at the octave of Midsummer. At which day the abbot comes and the sheriff returns the names of the jurors and that he has warned the priors, of Thurgerton and Shelford, Thomas de Longvilliers, Edmund Cressy, John de Dolyngbrok, knights, and William de Goteham, late assessors of the ninth in the county, and they come not. Therefore day is given until the quinzaine of Michaelmas. And William de Thorpe, Roger de Bawkeyll and Thomas de Sibethorpe are appointed in the meantime, by letters patent under the seal of the exchequer, to take an inquisition herein. At which day the abbot came and Thomas de Sibethorpe delivered an inquisition taken before him at Kneveton, on Monday after St. Bartholomew the Apostle in this year, by oath of John de Holm of Kneveton, Robert le Sherman of the same and others whose names are noted therein (the said assessors not appearing), who find for the abbot. Therefore it is adjudged that he be discharged of the said 37s. 9d.

Grant to Gilbert Talebot, in enlargement of the late grant to him for life of the castles and lordship of Blanleveny and Bulkydonas, that he shall retain the same in fee.

Whereas at the anxious request of brother Philip de Thame, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, asserting that he must go to his superiors at the city of Arles on urgent business of the Hospital, the king has granted licence for him to do this straitly enjoining him in person on pain of forfeiture of all that he can forfeit, in view of the present imminent risk of wars, to be back in England by the quinzaine of Trinity; for the indemnity of the goods of the Hospital while the prior is thus without the realm, the king has taken the prior and brethren and the men and goods of the same into his special protection until the date aforesaid.
