on assizes, juries or recognitions, and from appointment as mayor, sheriff, corner, escheator or other bailiff or corner of the king, against his will.

Feb. 12.

Whereas the king lately presented Roger de Queryngton, king’s clerk, to the church of Merston, in his gift by reason of the custody of the lands and heir of Robert Chaumberleyn being lately in the hands of Edward II, which church John Busshe of Hagham asserts to be a chapel annexed to the church of Hagham of his advowson; in order that Roger may the more securely maintain the right of the king and himself in the premises, the king has taken him and his men under his special protection in prosecuting such right.

Feb. 7.

Whereas the king by letters patent lately granted to Reginald de Cob-ham 500 marks yearly for life, in consideration of his good service and especially in the parts of France from the last passage of the king to those parts, he has granted that the manor of Westclyve, co. Kent, which Gawan Corder, ‘chivaler,’ now holds for life of his grant, shall remain to the said Reginald and the heirs of his body, provided always that when he obtain possession of the manor by the death of Gawan the extent thereof shall be subtracted from the said 500 marks yearly. By p.s.

Pardon to Richard son of John son of Walter de Northscarle of the king’s suit against him for the death of Ivo de Beverle, as it appears by the record of William de Thorpe and his fellows, justices appointed to deliver the king’s gaol of the castle of Lincoln, that he killed him in self defence.

Feb. 15.

Mandate to Reginald Forester, escheator in the county of Surrey, to deliver the temporalties of the abbey of Certeseye to brother John de Benham, a monk of that house, whose election as abbot has been con-firmved by W. bishop of Winchester, and who has done fealty to the king.

By letter of the keeper.
