Presentation of Martin de Moulish, chaplain, to the church of Chelsea, in the diocese of London, in the king's gift by reason of temporalities of the abbey of Westminster being lately in the hand of his father.

Writ of aid for one year for John Makery, charged by Augustine Walmy, lieutenant of the steward of Queen Philippa's household, to provide necessaries for the office of the kitchen and pantry in the same household pursuant to the statutes in that case published.

By testimony of Augustine hims

MEMBRANE 6

Whereas the king has caused a chapel begun by his progenitors eight secular canons in the castle of Windsor, in honour of Edward Confessor, wherein the king was washed in the water of holy baptism, the sustenance of which chaplains they gave alms out of their treasure their will, to be completed at his royal charges in honour of God, the Virgin Mary, and SS. George the Martyr and Edward the Confessor, in order that the glory of the Divine Name may be exalted by more extended worship has determined to add to the eight chaplains a warden, president of the same, fifteen, as yet, other canons, and twenty-four poor knights, to be maintained of the goods of the chapel, with other ministers, under the rule of the warden, willing that the canons and ministers shall celebrate divine offices there, according to an ordinance be made, for him and his progenitors and successors, in part satisfaction of those of whom in the last judgement he will have to give account; he has granted to the said canons and ministers, in frank alms the advowsons of the churches of Wyrrardesbury, in the diocese of Lincoln Southtauton, in the diocese of Exeter, and Uttoxatre, in the diocese of Coventry and Lichfield, with licence for the warden and canons to appropriate the churches. It is his will also that the grant for the college of the chapel out of his treasure yearly be so much enlarged with the emoluments of these churches it will provide sufficient for their food and other charges, until he shall provide them with good immoveable, lands, benefices or rents, to the sum of 1,000L yearly. All which he promises shall be carried into effect by him and his heirs.

By p.s

MEMBRANE 5.

Sept. 2. Westminster.

Having regard to the great place which Master William de Epworth has held and holds in the direction of the king's affairs in Ireland and at all sinister suspicions of him, which the king now knows came from his enemies and untruthful men, have been removed, the king has committed to the said Master William the office of second baron of the exchequer of Dublin, to hold during good behaviour with the accustomed fees; notwithstanding any commission of the office made before this to John de Troy or any other, which is hereby revoked.

By K.

Confirmation of the late grant, during pleasure, to Geoffrey de Styuecle of the serjeancy of the county of Cork, Ireland, as is more fully contained in the letters patent, notwithstanding the king's appointment of Ralph, baron of Stafford and Richard Talbot to the custody of all the castles, manors, lands, serjeancies and liberties in Ireland of Maurice son of Thomas, earl of Desmond.

By K.