the usual way. Proper names have presented greater difficulties, and it has been found impossible to secure absolute uniformity with regard to them, the extensions supplied by the rolls themselves being frequently inconsistent. No extensions of proper names have, however, been made without some contemporary authority, either in these rolls in other documents or on seals.

The text of this volume has been prepared by Mr. J. G. Black of the Public Record Office, with some help from Mr. C. T. Martin, an Assistant Record Keeper. Mr. Black has also compiled the Index.

II. C. MAXWELL LYTE.

Public Record Office,
25 June, 1901.