before the present king's first coronation at Westminster, shall not henceforth go beyond the king's passage into Brittany, which was on 1 May in his fourteenth year. But it is to be understood that this constitution is to have place and force on Whitsunday in the twenty-first year, and not before, and that writs obtained before should proceed under the terms before. Wherefore, because the king wills that these laws and customs, which are observed in the realm of England, shall be kept in Ireland, he has commanded the justiciary of Ireland to cause the said provision to be cried throughout his bailiwick and to be firmly kept in Ireland. And this the king signifies to the above archbishops &c., that he may certify them of the provision and they may keep it as much as in them is. [Statutes of the Realm, Vol. 1, p. 4. Statute of Merton.]

March 22. Presentation of Thomas de Leche to the church of Medburn, in the diocese of Lincoln.

Exemption for life of Adam son of William from doing suit at counties or hundreds, and from being put on assizes, juries or recognitions.

Appointment of brother John de Waverley to make the queen's chamber at Westminster; with mandate to all the king's bailiffs that when he passes by them to buy stone and purchase other necessaries, they shall be counselling and aiding to him in this, that the work be not hindered by their default.

March 24. Protection for John de Erlham so long as he be in the king's service in the office of the falconry.

March 25. Licence for Agatha Trussbuth to make her will of her goods, saving the king's debts if she owe anything to him.

MEMBRANE 9.

March 27. To the bishops of Glasgow and Mureyve, Walter Olifard, justice of Loeneys, and Henry de Baillol. After that the king wrote last to A. king of Scotland as to sending envoys to meet those of Alexander at Donecastre to treat of peace, certain rumours came to him which prevented him from sending thither, as he intended, W. (bishop) elect of Valence, and Simon de Monteforte. Therefore he sends to meet them W. archbishop of York, J. de Lascey, earl of Lincoln and constable of Chester, and William de Raleigh, treasurer of Exeter, as his plenipotentiaries to treat of peace between him and the said king and to conclude the business if God will.

Licence for William de Kef to let to farm to Henry de Sancto Albano, citizen of London, for six years from this instant Easter, his manor of Mordun.

Licence to elect for the sub-prior and convent of Bikenacre, on news of the death of Ralph, their prior, brought by Richard, cellarer, and Richard de London, canon of the said house.

Grant to William son of Richard of the custody, during pleasure, of the fees of knights and free men holding by knight service of the honors of Peverel, London, Reyleg and Hageneth; and mandate to all such tenants to be intendant to him herein.

March 30. The like to the same of the custody of the lands of the said Robert.