MEMBRANE 8.

Aug. 80. Bordeaux.

Bond to Gaillard Colum, citizen of Bordeaux, in 600 marks, which he has lent to the king, to be paid at Bordeaux a fortnight after Michaelmas.

Grant to him that he shall receive the king's profit (questaw) of the latules of Bordeaux, from Sunday after the Decollation of St. John the Baptist this year until Christmas in the twenty-seventh year in part payment of his loan of 600 marks, and this he shall receive by the hands of the bishop of Dax.

Acknowledgment that William Reymundi Colum, citizen of Bordeaux, has satisfied the king of 35 pounds of Bordeaux, of the farm of the prévôté of Bordeaux, let to him at farm from the middle of May last for one year.

Convention made between Henry king of England and Raymond, count of Toulouse and marquess of Provence.

The king promises to help the count against the king of France and every living man except against the church of Rome, to which he wishes all manner of reverence and due obedience to be shewn, and except against Frederick, emperor of the Romans, his brother in law. He will not make peace, truce or concord with the king of France, or any composition with him, without the licence, assent and will of the said count; and if the church of Rome attack him, and the king of France, at the mandate of the popes, rise against him, and enter his land in person, the king will not desist, at the prayers or admonitions of the church of Rome, from helping him, unless compelled to do so by sentence of excommunication, in which case the king may desist from making war against the king of France, so long as he be personally and by mandate of the church of Rome in the count’s land. But upon his leaving the count’s land, the king shall recommence war against him, helping the count as before. For the faithful observance whereof by the king John de Plesseto has sworn on the king’s soul by his order, and barons of Bordeaux and of Bazas, to wit, Elias Rudel of Bregerac, Kenguil de Sparre, Arnold de Blanckeforde, Peter de Castillon, Bernard de Seusen, William Segyn de Ryon, Bernard de Boeill, lord of Benezages, Peter de Gaveret, Gaillard de la Mote, Amaneu de Noillan, William de Farges, Amaneu de Lebret, Nompar (Nemerans) de Chaumont, William Reimundi de Pinibus, lord of Caumont, William Arnaldi de Tantalon, have sworn the same, by his special command, also the noble men, B. count of Bigorre and Gaston de Byarr have promised the count to do their utmost to cause the king to observe these things and have given the count letters patent to that effect, with this added, that if the king fail to observe them, he wills that for such time they be absolved from their fealty to him, and may rise against him and help the count against him.

The charter of the count will be found on the dorse of the roll. [Federera.]

Safe-conduct until one year after Michaelmas for William Arnaldi de Villa Dei and Gerard Ispano, serjeants of Ponceus Grimaudi, to trade in the king’s power with the goods of the said Ponceus.

Grant to John son of Geoffrey of the marriage of the sons and heirs of John de Veteri Ponte, for a fine of 200 marks made with the king, on the condition that in case of the death of the first begotten son, he shall have the marriage of the surviving heirs.

Bond to Elias de Brigerak in 500 marks sterling to be paid in Gascony within a month of Michaelmas, to wit, 300 marks to his own use of the king’s gift, and 200 for the strengthening of his town of Brigerak.
