To Nicholas de Molis, seneschal of Gascony. The king has granted to Bernard de Lipposse that he may stay and be received in certain places formerly assigned to him and that he may sue and obtain from his debtors all his debts without the city of Bayonne, and that he may receive the vineyard and copse (virgultum) which he had in the bishopric of Dax, if it can be done without the indignation of the commonalty of Bayonne and the king's loss. The king has also granted to Mary his wife a moiety of all the goods that belonged to him, for her maintenance. The king therefore commands the seneschal to see that this is done, and to cause the said Mary to receive her moiety, and to be diligent in urging the commonalty of Bayonne to suffer the said Bernard to have the copse and vineyard and to do him justice in his plaints.
