Nov. 11. Grant by the counsel of the magnates of the council to James de Westminster. Alditheleye of the wardship of the lands late of Isabel Basset, tenant in chief, in England, Wales, and Ireland, saving the marriage of the heirs and the advowsons of churches; and during this wardship the yearly fee of 60 marks of the said James which he receives at the Exchequer shall cease; and the surplus in the value of the said lands by a reasonable extent which the king will have made, the said James shall deliver during the said wardship to the abbess and nuns of Fontevrault for the $80$ and $50s.$ a year which they receive at the Exchequer of the king's appointed alms.

Nov. 13. Ratification of a lease for eighteen years from Martinmas, 45 Westminster. Henry III, by Philip Marmiun to Peter de Monteforti and Richard de Stroda of his whole land in Torindon.

Grant, at the instance of Alan Durward (Hostiarius), to Luke de Gisorcis, for four years from Martinmas, that he shall not be distrained for the debt of another unless he be the surety or principal debtor.

The like, at the like instance, to Hutingus Castebal of Arderne.

The like, at the instance of the king of Scotland, to Ralph de Ravenesher, for ten years from the feast of St. Clement, 45 Henry III.

Nov. 14. Grant, at the instance of A. king of Scotland, to Richard de Insula. of quittance for five years from Martinmas, from suits of the king's counties, hundreds, trethings and wapentakes; and from common summons before the justices in eyre for common pleas in the counties wherein he has lands; and from being put on assizes, juries or recognitions or from being made sheriff, coroner, escheator forester, verderer or other bailiff of the king against his will.

The like, at the like instance, to William de Merkeshale.

Nov. 14. Whereas John Columbi, sometime mayor of Bordeaux, and the jurats of that city charged Gaillard de Solio, lately returning from England to his own parts, with a crime, and caused him and his favourers to be arrested for security and caution; and the king, for the preservation of his honour, and the peace of that city, wishing to be certified touching this matter, commanded the mayor and commune of Bordeaux that, if the said Gaillard found to them before the seneschal of Gascony three or four reasonable sureties, to go bail for him and his said favourers to be before the king of England at the Assumption, 43 Henry III, to do and receive justice touching the said crime, they should deliver them; and also commanded the said mayor with seven or eight of the city to be with the king on the same day, so that when the truth was found, the said Gaillard if guilty, or the others if any of them by chance had invented this against him maliciously, should be subject to due vengeance: and whereas the mayor and commune of Bordeaux would not permit the said Gaillard and his favourers to be bailed, but detained them as before contrary to the king's mandate, whereby they could not appear before the king on the appointed day, and the mayor and his accomplices disdained to appear on that day, as the king had commanded them, whereupon the king caused Arnold Kaylau, then mayor of Bordeaux, and John Columbi, mayor of the preceding year, with seven