1261.

Membrane 2—cont.

him for the same by view of lawful men, on condition that the said victuals remain to the king unless by reason of war they are consumed in its defence, in which case the king will allow him the proportion consumed in its defence.

The following have the like:

- James de Aldithele for the castles of Shrewsbury and Bruges.
- Matthias Bezill, for the castle of Gloucester.
- J. de Plessetis, earl of Warwick, for the castle of Devizes.
- Peter de Percy, for the castle of York.
- Alan la Zuche, for the castles of Rockingham and Northampton.

Oct. 20.
Tower of London.

John de Baillol has a like letter with respect to the cost of repairing houses and other works of the castle of Nottingham, which he has already made, and of victualling the said castle because of the disturbance now arisen in the realm.

The following have the like:

- Philip Marmyun for the castle of Norwich.
- Eustace de Baillol for the castle of Carlisle.

Oct. 20.
Tower of London.

Appointment, during pleasure, of Eustace de Baillol to keep the county of Cumberland with the castle of Karleol, rendering yearly at the Exchequer as much as William de Dacre used to pay.

Oct. 22.
Tower of London.

Grant to the good men of Edward the king's son of Bristol of murage for five years from All Saints in the forty-sixth year.

Oct. 20.
Tower of London.

Safe conduct, until All Saints and the whole of that day, for the barons coming to Kingiston on the morrow of the Apostles Simon and Jude to make peace over the contentions between the king and them; provided that they come and stay there without arms.

Pardon to James de Newebigging for the death of Richard le Carpenter, as it appears by inquisition made by Peter de Percy that he killed him by misadventure.

Oct. —
Tower of London.

Appointment, during pleasure, of Adam de Gesemuth to keep the county of Northumberland and the castle of Newcastle on Tyne, rendering at the Exchequer as much as Thomas de Rye.

Tower of London.

The like to Baldwin de Insula, earl of Devon, as principal guardian of the manor of Sweneston in the Isle of Wight, which is in the king's hands by reason of the voidance of the bishopric of Winchester, on condition that the king's bailiff of the manor now there remain there in the king's name, and be answerable to the said Baldwin for the farm and other issues of the manor, and that, out of the issues thereof, there be allowed to the said Baldwin 100 marks a year for his fee, he answering the king at the Exchequer for the surplus. And if the earl should [for any] reason need the help of the men of that manor they are to assist him in the defence of those parts and the preservation of the peace; and the king's bailiff of the manor is to keep safe the liberties of the church of Winchester belonging to the said manor and see that there be no waste or sale of woods or withdrawal of liberties to the detriment of the manor.