1261.

Oct. 29.

Ratification of the estimate by L. king of France, of the yearly value of the land of the Agenais which by the form of the late peace the said king has to render and the king left to his award, to wit, 3720 pounds, 8 shillings and 6 pence of Tours.

Membrane 21.

Oct. 29.

Letters of credence for the said Henry, the treasurer, and Robert de Scrop, Templar, whom the king is sending to the said Louis on the affairs of the Agenais and other affairs.

They had a like letter of credence to the queen of France.

All the foregoing letters are vacated and cancelled, because surrendered. And so none of them took effect (habuit locum) and all were surrendered by Master Henry de Gandavo and cancelled and handed to Sir P. de Wintonia.

Oct. 29.

Safe conduct until Sunday after All Saints and the whole of that day for the barons coming to Kingston to make peace with the king on that day, so that they come and stay there without arms.

[Royal Letters, vol. ii, p. 194.]

Nov. 3.

Grant to the good men of R. king of the Romans, of Cycestre, of murage for five years from the feast of St. Martin.

Nov. 3.

Presentation of Otho de Chauvent to the church of Havehunt in the king's gift by reason of the voidance of the bishopric of Winchester; directed to B. archbishop of Canterbury.

Friday after All Saints, London.

Signification to Louis, king of France, of the appointment of Master Thomas de Pyweleeden and Nicholas de la Leye as the king's proctors in the court of the said Louis on the quinzaine of St. Martin against Reynold de Pontibus and Margaret his wife touching the affair of Brigerac; ita quod quantum ad hoc non sit conditio melior occupantis.

The like, touching the affair of Brigeriac and Geneiac, without this clause; ita quod etc.

Afterwards there issued other proxies under the names of William de Percy and the said Master Thomas under the same date; and a proxy of the same date, a copy of which is attached.

Membrane 21. (Schedule).

The copy of the aforesaid proxy, according to the form prescribed for both parties.