1264. March 28. Oxford. Pardon to Henry de la Pomeray, and Oliver Dinaunt of their trespasses in the realm by occasion of the non observance of the provisions of Oxford, for which there has lately been disturbance in the realm; until the day when the king of France pronounced his award; upon the said provisions and remission of the king's rancour and indignation against them on that account.

By K. and Edward the king's son.

March 28. Oxford. Grant to the burgesses of Southampton that from Michaelmas to Christmas next they shall be quit of all carriages and payments to the king by reason of the farm of their town; because by order of the king they have satisfied Peter Johannis, merchant of Bordeaux, and Peter Alberti, merchant of Bourg, of 40 marks for 20 tuns of wine, which John de Swineford, taker of the king's wines, took from them for the king's use at Southampton, whereof the said burgesses have a writ of Allocare.

Simple protection until Michaelmas for the prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England.

March 28. Oxford. Pardon, out of reverence for St. Frideswide, to Juliana late the wife of Warin le Mourer for receiving her husband after his outlawry for the death of Ralph de Derham, whereof he was charged.

Pardon, out of reverence for St. Frideswide, to Albinus de Hulhampton of his outlawry for the death of William Huber of Velton.

March 25. Oxford. Whereas heretofore by letters patent the king when at Bordeaux commanded W. archbishop of York, and W. de Cantilupe that if it should appear by the mandate of the chancellor of the university of Oxford, that the chancellor and university would be content that Henry son of Henry Simeonis, who withdrew for the death of a man, would return to Oxford and stay there, so that the university should not retire from the said town on account of his staying there; then they should permit him to return without impediment and have the king's peace; the king, at the instance of Nicholas de Yatingden, of his further grace, has pardoned the said Henry the said death, on condition that he stand his trial if any will proceed against him, and has granted that he may return and dwell there so long as he be of good behaviour and that the university do not withdraw from the said town on account of his return and the death of the said Henry.

March 25. Oxford. Mandate to John Giffard, on his fealty and homage, to deliver the castle of St. Briavels and the forest of Dene to Walter de Wike, canon of Lantonay, to keep for the king's use during pleasure.

By K. Edward the King's son, and Hugh le Bigod, by whose order this letter was handed to the said Walter to take to the said John.

Grant to William de Kaynes of 30 marks a year at the Exchequer, until the king provide for him more bountifully.

The like to Nicholas Poynz.
