whom the king has granted the lands, because the said John was with other of the king's adversaries at the taking of the town of Rochester and at the siege of the castle there.

The like to the tenants of the manors of Berling and Burgham, late of William de Say.

To Louis, king of France, whereas the king lately at Amiens, in the presence of the said Louis and of certain nobles of his council, assigned out of the money due from Louis by the peace for the cost of 500 knights for two years, 2,000 pounds of Tours in aid of the Holy Land to be delivered to John de Valentinis, knight of the said Louis, and taken by him to the Holy Land, and there expended for the king in the service of God; as the king is crossed, he requests the said Louis to deliver the said sum to the said John to keep in the Holy Land as many knights yearly as can be maintained by it, and this in part ransom of the king's vow if by any unexpected chance he cannot go in person to the Holy Land. And the king acquits the said Louis and his heirs and successors of the said 2,000 pounds of Tours.

Acquittance to the said Louis of the above whole sum for the cost of 500 knights for two years, which, without waiting for the decision of others, the king accepted at the amount of 134,000[] of Tours, which he has since received. And, as he has already expended a great part thereof in the utility of the realm of England, he promises that he will expend the residue in the service of God and the church or in the utility of the realm, as he is bound in the form of peace.

By K., the king of Almain, Edward the king's son, Henry, son of the king of Almain, Roger de Leiburn and others of the king's council.

And be it known that Master Arnulf, chancellor of the king of Almain, dictated and wrote with his own hands the above letter without the counsel and assent of any clerk of the Chancery, and it was sealed before the king's council at Lewes on the day aforesaid.

Collation to Master Godfrey Giffard of the prebend of Duddecote, in the church of Wells, void by the death of Master Walter de Gersington, sometime canon, in the king's gift by reason of the voidance of the bishopric of Bath and Wells; with mandate to the dean and chapter to give him a stall in the choir and a place in the chapter.

The like to Master John de Chishull, archdeacon of London of the prebend which Master Godfrey Giffard had in the same church before he exchanged it for Duddecote, in the king's gift as above.

Grant to James de Aldithele of the wardship of the lands and heirs of John son of Robert de Bello Campo, a minor, deceased, who married Joan daughter of the said James, who is near her time or has already given birth to an heir; with the marriage of the heirs, and the marriage of the said Joan.

Pardon at the instance of Roger de Mortuo Mari, to Adam son of Walter de Esthampton for the death of Bernard son of Bernard de Ledicote.
