And all the lands which have been seized on one side or the other by occasion of this movement shall be now returned and all the prisoners who have been taken since the said term delivered.

And all the aforesaid pardons, reliefs, quittances and covenants are made on the one side and the other of matters done by reason of this movement since the earl left Wales to come to the city of London.

And the earl believes and intends that peace and accord shall be between Sir Edward and him when the peace aforesaid shall be made.

In witness whereof the king of England and the king of Almain have set their seals to this writing.

Whereas the disinherited whom the king has not received into his peace with the said earl, have requested the king to receive them into his peace; the king has granted to them, their people and all their company with all their goods, that they shall have eleven days fully after the king's coming to the city of London, to safely dwell at Bermundeseye and elsewhere where they will without being disturbed by the king or his, and safely to come to the king to treat of their peace and to return to their retreat, and to send their people into the city to seek their needs (estovers) without contradiction.

And if it chance that they cannot accord with the king within the eleven days, the king grants to them, their people and company,
