Richemund, as he had power to do by charter of the king, and the king has need of that honour to the use of John de Britannia, his son, to give it to him, as he is bound by letters patent made to him long since; grant to the queen, in exchange for the said honour, which the queen has surrendered and quitclaimed to the king, of 800 marks yearly for life from the following farms, in form more fully contained in letters patent made to her, to wit, from the farm of the following:— Merleberg, 50l.
Agnes de Rouesdon, 7l. 10s.
Winterburn, 12l. 9d.
Hedingdon, 18l.
Haneberg, 27l.
Blockesham, 32l.
The mills of Oxford, 25l.
The meadow of Oxford, 13l. 6s. 8d.
The township of Langlele, 7l.
Cocham, Braye and Kenigton, 50 marks.
Wicumbe, 18l.
Kingeston with its extensions (cum extensis) 29l. 13s. 7d.
Boscham, 43l. 4s. 6d.
Hadleg, 13l. 6s. 8d.
Colecestre, 41l. 8s.
Andovere, 82l. 6s. 8d.
Basingestok, 80l.

with mandate to the tenants of the said manors and farms to be intendant to her in respect of the said farms.

Mandate to the barons of the Exchequer to let her have the said farms at the Exchequer or elsewhere as she will let them know on behalf of the king, with the arrears thereof of last Michaelmas term: and if any money for that term has been paid at the Exchequer, they are to let her have such amount elsewhere without delay out of money due to the king.

It is commanded to each of the said manors in the said form.

To R. bishop of Norwich. Whereas the king lately appointed Master John de Sancto Dionisio and William de Muriedon, king's clerks, to tax ecclesiastical benefices in his diocese, and to collect the tenth of this third year of the tenth granted to the king by the pope and the arrears of the past two years, and to audit the reckonings of the past two years; the king, having inspected the tenour of the pope's mandate about the collection of the said tenth directed to him and the other collectors, and willing that the pope and the college of cardinals be fully satisfied of the arrears of the yearly cess due to them according to the tenour of the said mandate, commands the bishop, by view and testimony of the said clerks, to collect the tenth of this third and the second year with the arrears thereof with all speed and to assign the same to Master Sinicius, clerk of the papal chamber, and nuncio specially deputed for this purpose, entirely to the use of the pope and cardinals, reserving the arrears of the first year to the use of the king. The king wills further that all the benefices and ecclesiastical profits of the said bishopric be taxed completely (exquisite) according to the true value by the said clerks, and that the total reckonings of the receipts and payments of the whole of the said tenth be audited in order that the king may know by whom and
