1269.
May 5. Windsor.

Safe conduct for Master John Domingi de Tolosa, clerk of the king and of Edward his son, and his merchants, bringing wines, merchandise and other goods of his to the realm, so that they may trade with these quit of all the king's prises except the due and ancient prises and customs. Grant also that they shall not be distrained for any debt whereof they are not sureties or principal debtors. And if by misadventure or otherwise their goods come to the king's hands as forfeit, they shall have them again, so long as they can shew them to be theirs; for the life of the said Master John.

Mandate to Master Constantine de Mildehale, archdeacon of Sutbiry, collector of the tenth, and auditor of the account of the same tenth, in divers dioceses, to pay to Bernard Nicholaus, king's merchant, 531. in which the king is bound to him for divers jewels and loans which he made to the king in the time when Nicholas de Leukenor was keeper of the wardrobe, as the king is more fully informed by Giles de Audenardo, then sub-keeper of the wardrobe, out of the first moneys collected after this date of the tenth of the city and diocese of Norwich or of the fine made for the same.

Simple protection without clause, for two years, for Walter de Agmodesham, rector of the church of St. Thomas, Wynchelese, and for Warner, his vicar of the said church.

Mandate to the sheriff of Devon not to intermeddle in the king's demesnes in his bailiwick, which the king has committed during pleasure to John le Moyne, escheator on this side Trent; and if he have taken any of the issues thereof, since the said commitment, to restore the same to the said John, that he may answer for the same at the Exchequer.

The like to the sheriff of Gloucester as to the demesne of Wynchecumbe and the king's other demesnes in his bailiwick.

The like to the sheriff of Salop and Stafford as to the demesne of Claverle and the king's other demesnes.

The like to the sheriff of Worcester as to the manor of Fecham and the king's other demesnes.

The like to Alan de Plokenet, as to the demesne of Gylyngham and the king's other demesnes.

May 4. Windsor.

Whereas Oliver de Chaleys has remitted to the king and his heirs all the arrears of his yearly fee of 100/, to wit, 2,250 marks, and 500 marks wherein the king was bound to him of the time when he came to the king's homage; the king for his courtesy in this has granted to him of 500 marks, to wit, 50 marks to be received forthwith at the Exchequer according to the tenour of the king's writ of Liberate which he has received, and another 50 marks of the issues of the city of London according to the tenour of his writ of Computabimus which the said Oliver has received, and the remaining 400 marks to be paid at the Exchequer of Michaelmas.

And be it known that the said Oliver in like manner remitted his said fee for himself and his heirs for ever, as appears in the roll of Liberate of this year. And that he made his letters patent of quittance of the said arrears and fee which are enrolled in the said roll of Liberate of this month.