who has been in no small degree troubled about the collection thereof, and she has appointed Stephen de Fuleburn, hospitaller, and Master John de Bosco, jointly and severally, as her proctors and messengers to collect the said tenth, and to audit the reckonings of the receipts of divers collectors thereof; the king ratifies this and commands all persons in Ireland to be of aid to them. [Footnote.]

Mandate to bailiffs and others of Ireland to protect them; for one year.

Writ of aid directed to James de Alditheleye and all the king's lieges throughout Ireland in favour of the said Stephen and John and their substitutes in levying the tenth.

Confirmation of a lease by Walter de Fvenle to Eleanor, consort of Edward the king's son, of the manor of Martok co. Somerset for six years from the Invention of the Holy Cross, 54 Henry III.

The like of a grant by the said Edward to his consort Eleanor and her heirs of the manor of Maclefeud with the forest and other appurtenances.

Simple protection, without clause, for one year, for Matthew de Knelle.

Grant to the prioress and convent of St. Mary's, Winchester, for a fine of 20 marks, that so soon as of their abbey fall void by the cession or because of Eufemia their abbess, they shall have the keeping of it; so that they shall receive the issues and profits thereof as in tallages of their men, rents and other appurtenances, saving to the king knights' fees and advowsons of churches, wardships, reliefs and escheats.

Pardon, at the instance of Richard de Wy, king's clerk, to John de la Neuland for the death of Gregory de Penkeneth, as it appears by inquisition made by Reynold de Botrell and Ralph de Arundell, that he killed him in self defence.

Simple protection, without clause, for one year from Michaelmas, for Stephen de Fuleburn, hospitaller, going to Ireland on the affairs of the queen and of Edward the king's son.

Pardon, at the instance of Stephen le Eddeworth, to Cecily de Blunteedon for a larceny with which she is charged.

Whereas the king lately granted to his consort Queen Eleanor the keeping of the bridge of London with the liberties and other things belonging thereto, for a certain time; grant to her of the said keeping with the liberties, &c. until All Saints and for six years afterwards.

Protection with clause rogamus, for three years, for the leprous brethren of the hospital of St. Mary Magdalen, Becles.

Grant to William de Columbaris, king's yeoman, of the marriage of Olive late the wife of Rowland de Axstede, who held in chief, or