Membrane 7—cont.

1271.

Forcius de Argentein, the king of France's merchant of Cundom, 20 sacks.
John de Boue, for himself and Warin Piket and Warin de Rounewale, his fellows and the king of France's merchants of Amiens, 160 sacks.
John Clepyng, for himself and Gerard de Lubek, the king of Almain's merchants of Lubek, 140 sacks.
Gilbert de Meys, servant of John de Meys, and of Miles de Meys, the king of France's merchants of Amiens, 24 sacks.
Frank de Colonla and John de Uppelford, the king of France's merchants of Cologne, 60 sacks.

Aug. 28.
Westminster.

Hugh le Flyn, the said king's merchant of St. Omer, 40 sacks.
John le Burdeur, the said king's merchant of Amiens, 10 sacks.
Peter son of John de Middelburg, the king of Almain's merchant of Middelburg, 4 sacks.
Amphus Mauryn and William de la Pochade, the king of France's merchants of Provence, 163 sacks.
William Warache, merchant of Forcius de Mora of London, 50 sacks.

Sept. 1.
Merton.

Godfrey, burgess of Louvain, 24 sacks.
James Capedemayll, the king's merchant of Paris, 40 sacks.
Peter Mathie, the king of France's merchant of Marseille, 25 sacks.
Fernin Knyvet, the said king's merchant of Amiens, 40 sacks.
Brunus de Colonla, Conrad Brysenek, Hermann de Herle, and John Fulphume, the king of Almain's merchants of Cologne, 80 sacks.
Robert Beaudery, the king of France's merchant of Rouen, 100 sacks.
Nicholas le Celer, merchant of Winchester, all his wool.

Sept. 4.
Merton.

Gosbert Navar', the king of France's merchant, 20 sacks.

Membrane 6.

Aug. 3. Presentation of Master R. de Stanes to the church of Boking, in the king's gift by reason of the voidance of the archbishopric of Canterbury; directed to Hugh de Mortuo Mari, archdeacon of Canterbury.

Whereas Queen Eleanor, R. bishop of Coventry and Lichfield, Gilbert Talebot and John de Oketon received a loan from the king's brother R. king of the Romans, of 1,000 marks to the use of Edmund the king's son, and for the payment of the same money on the quinzeine of Michaelmas bound the lands of the said Edmund and their own lands to him, his executors or assigns, as is contained in a letter obligatory made between them which the king has inspected; the king ratifies the said bond.

Power to Master Richard de Clifford, king's clerk, keeper of the archbishopric of Canterbury, to sell the wardship of the lands and heirs of Walter le Butiller, who held of the archbishopric in chief, with the marriage of the heirs as shall be expedient for the king; provided that the money arising from the sale be laid out in the acquittance of Lent seed of the lands of the archbishopric and he answer the same to the king by reasonable account at the Exchequer.