1271.

Membrane 5—cont.

Floria, sister of Samuel son of Aaron le Blunt, Jew of London, deceased (de sancto) which Floria had of the collation of Samuel her brother; and whereas the houses, lands and debts and all the goods late of the said Samuel, according to the law and custom of the said Jewry came to Margalicia daughter of Joceus, wife of the said Samuel, after his death; grant in consideration of the said Edmund, to whom the king gave the said Aaron son of Vives, that if the said Samuel or Aaron his father, whose heir he is, was bound to the king on the day of his death, the said Aaron son of Vives shall not be distrained by reason of the said plot to pay the said debts or any part thereof, so long as the lands and goods of the said Margalicia, which goods remained to her after the death of the said Samuel suffice for the payment thereof; and if they prove insufficient the king wills that the said Aaron son of Vives shall contribute to the payment of the debts what could pertain to him out of the said plot according to the extent lately made by order of the king by Roger de la Leye, king's clerk, then chancellor of the Exchequer, of the lands and houses late of the said Samuel, and not beyond that; and, if need be, shall be distrained for that portion.

Protection with clause, for one year, for Bonettus de Sancto Quintino.

Aug. 28. Respite, at the instance of Robert Aguillun, to Roger de Wykes Westminster, from making himself a knight for three years.

Whereas the king is bound in divers debts which he wishes to pay, and also has at heart the expedition of the works of Westminster, he has provided by the council that 1,000 marks of the corn of this autumn in the barns of the archbishopric of Canterbury be sold and 900 marks thereof paid to his creditors and the remainder applied to the expedition of the said works; and therefore he commands Master Richard de Clifford, guardian of the archbishopric, to cause the said 1,000 marks to be so levied.

Aug. 28. Quittance to the prior of Stiventon and his villeins because the prior has satisfied the king and Edward his son of the twentieth incident to them, of the said twentieth.

The like to the prior and convent of Wautham.

Grant to Poncius de Mora, king's merchant, taken of the king's wines throughout England, of 2,000 marks for wines taken from him and still to be taken to the king's use, out of the 3,000 marks wherein Llewelin son of Griffin, prince of Wales, is bound to the king of Christmas Term next, according to the form of the peace.

Aug. 28. Acknowledgment of the receipt of the said sum by the hand of the Westminster said Poncius.

Grant to Alard Lupsy of Lille in Flanders, at the instance of Edward the king's son and for courtesies and honours which he has done to the said Edward, that he may stay within the king's realm and power to trade, until Christmas; and licence for him to export 100 sacks of wool arrested in the realm by occasion of the contention with the countess of Flanders, which he can prove he bought from