1272.

Membrane 14—cont.

etc. and the said letters have been lost, as the king has learned, he grants that William shall have the said liberty in the form aforesaid.

Grant for life, for long and laudable service, to Master Henry Wade of his wages of 7½d. a day, to be taken at the Exchequer at Michaelmas and Easter in the same manner as Master William de Saundon, deceased, used to take them.

Grant at the instance of W. archbishop of York, to his burgesses and good men of Beverley that they shall be quit for five years of all prises on their merchandise throughout the king’s realm and power; saving the king’s due and ancient prises.

Licence, notwithstanding the late prohibition against exporting corn because of the present dearth (caristiam) for Gregory de Rokesle, citizen of London, to take a ship laden with corn to Gascony to make his profit thereof; until Midsummer.

Grant to the abbot of Sees that Denis, prior of Arundel, Stephen de Roulaund, monk, and Adam de Sengleton, whom he has appointed before the king in his place, shall be admitted as his attorneys for seven years, and may make other attorneys for him as shall be expedient.

The like to Hugh Peverel, going beyond seas, that James de Sancto Vigore shall be admitted etc.

Writ de intendendo to the tenants of the castle of Oreford and the burgesses of that town in favour of Edward the king’s son to whom for certain causes the king has committed the castle and town to keep, during pleasure, answering for the issues at the Exchequer, or those supplying his place.

May 18. Quittance to R. bishop of Norwich, of 50 marks, part of the twentieth Westminster, to be rendered to the king and Edward, his son, for him and his villeins, which he has paid to Robert Burnel, king’s clerk, by the hands of Bartholomew de Castello, clerk of the said Robert.

Simple protection without clause, for two years, for Alice daughter of Adam.

Bond of the king to Robert Burnel, king’s clerk, in 63l. 3s. 2d., to be paid by the hands of John de Sa[unford], escheator of Ireland, out of the first moneys arising from the said escheatry, in part payment of 126l. 6s. 4d. for a land which he quit-claimed to the king to the use of John de la Linde, to whom the king granted it by charter.

Writ of aid directed to the castellans, commonalties and all the king’s faithful of the land of Gascony, in favour of Thomas de Clare, the king’s secretary, whom the king has deputed in his place to further business in those parts enjoined on him by word of mouth.