Sept. 28. Grant to one of the sons of Thomas de Sabaudia, sometime count of Flanders, of the marriage of the daughter and heir of Simon de Bello Campo, sometime son and heir of William de Bello Campo of Bedeford the elder.

Whereas the executors of the will of A. sometime bishop of Winchester, the king's brother, lately solicited the king at Paris for the restitution to them of the receipts of the bishopric while the said bishop was without the realm, until his death; and it was agreed that one should be put on the king's part and another on their part, and it seems to the king a good way that they elect a third; grant that if Master Peter de Sancto Mario, one of the said executors, have power from his co-executors to make a composition or an end between the king and them, and he is willing to take it upon himself, or being unwilling, if he have power to appoint another in his place who will undertake this and shall agree with the one deputed on the king's behalf upon a third born within the realm, so that they all or by the majority may, after consideration of the king's state and what has been done, consummate the business, then John, abbot of Peterborough (de Burgo), the treasurer, shall be the king's nominee, or, if he cannot attend to this then the king empowers Philip Basset, justiciary of England, the said abbot and Walter de Merton, the chancellor, to appoint another for this by common assent.

Oct. 3. Presentation of Peter de Weseham to the church of Calwesdon, in the king's gift by reason of the voidance of the bishopric of London; directed to the archbishop of Canterbury or his official in the bishopric of London in the voidance.

The like, directed to Richard, bishop elect of London.

Oct. 6. Grant to Walter de Merton, the chancellor, in consideration of the resignation which he made of the prebend which he had in the church of London, of the prebend which Master Richard Talebot, bishop elect of London, deceased, had in the said church, in the king's gift by reason of the voidance of the bishopric of London.

Letters of credence for Raymond de Bovis Villa and John de la Lynde, seneschal of the Limousin, Queray and Périgord, in whatever they shall expound in the matters enjoined upon them; directed to the bishops, vicomtes (vicecomitibus), barons, abbes, priors, chapters, castellans of boroughs and towns, commonalties and others in the cities and dioceses of the said places.

Acknowledgement that the king is bound to Walter Matyn, citizen of Paris, in 200 marks which he delivered, by order of the king, to William de Chaveny (sic), the king's brother, for his fee which the king granted to him at the Exchequer; to be paid within the quintaine of Easter next.

Pardon to Philip son of Philip de Aure for the death of Adam Payn, as the king is informed by inquisition which he ordered to be made by Richard de Chircchesdon and the sheriff of Gloucester that he killed him by misadventure.
