Pardon, by the advice of the present council, to all denizen merchants of England of 6s. 8d. due by inheritance to the king from each sack of wool and every 240 wool-fells taken by them out of the realm before Michaelmas next, so that they pay 6s. 8d. only on the same. By K. & C.

Membrane 29—cont.

Commission to Leonard Hakeluyt, Thomas Wallweyyn and John Bodenham; as the king is going in person with 144 men at arms and 720 archers in his company to South Wales for the safe custody of those parts and the castigation of the rebels there, and divers lords and knights are retained with him for that cause to stay in divers places in the said parts with certain men at arms and archers in their company from 27 April next for one year, viz. the king's brother Thomas Beauford, 'chivaler,' at Kermerdlyn with 120 men at arms and 600 archers, at Newcastle Emelyn with 10 men at arms and 50 archers and at Cardigan with 60 men at arms and 300 archers, Richard, lord of Grey, at Breghennok with 40 men at arms and 200 archers and at Radenore with 30 men at arms and 150 archers, William Beauchamp, lord of Bergeveny, at Bergeveny with 80 men at arms and 400 archers and Richard Darundell, 'chivaler,' at La Hay with 16 men at arms and 80 archers, as appears in certain indentures; to supervise the musters of the above in the county of Hereford and the other parts and places aforesaid from time to time during the said term and to certify thereon to the king and council.

By K. & C.

Commission to John Cornewall, John Boerleye and Thomas Yonge; as the king lately appointed his son Henry, prince of Wales, his lieutenant in North Wales for one year from 27 April next and he is retained to go on the king's service for the safe custody of those parts and the castigation of the rebels there with 500 men at arms and 2,650 archers in his company from 27 April to 27 June and afterwards with 500 men at arms and 3,000 archers, as appears in certain indentures; to supervise the musters of the king's said son and other lords, magnates, knights, esquires and fencible men in the counties of Salop and Chester from time to time and to certify thereon to the king and council. The said John and John are also to certify to the council as quickly as possible touching the names, number and array of all lords, knights and esquires who have been at the king's wages in the same parts on their safe custody after the last Parliament at Coventre, as was verbally enjoined to them in the same Parliament.

By C.

The like to the same to supervise the musters of the king's son Henry, prince of Wales, and other lords, magnates, knights, esquires and fencible men going in his company on the king's service to North Wales for the safe custody of those parts and the castigation of the rebels there, in the counties of Salop and Chester from time to time and to certify thereon to the king and council.

By C.

Whereas in the account of Nicholas Usk, late treasurer of Calais, rendered at the Exchequer by John Appelby and Richard Tyrell, executors of his will, the said Nicholas was found to be indebted to the king in 1,017l. 2s. 8d.; and the executors in part payment have delivered 300 marks to the king in his chamber for the expenses of the same, and have offered certain obligations and other evidences amounting to the sum of 400 marks due to the said Nicholas in his lifetime to the treasurer and barons of the Exchequer and the king's chamberlains, and have given the king to understand that certain persons to whom the