
John, the abbot, and the convent of Tavystok, which abbey is of the foundation of the king’s progenitors and of the king’s patronage, have shown the king that in the time of Edward I one Walter le Abbe granted to the abbot and convent 4 acres of land in Whitechurche by Tavystok and the advowson of the church of Whitechurche and afterwards Edward I by letters patent granted licence for him to grant to them 3 acres of land in Whitechurche and the advowson, and afterwards the church was appropriated to them by divers appropriations made by Thomas and John, bishops of Exeter, with the assent of the dean and chapter of Exeter, and afterwards Edward III by letters patent dated 6 March, 5 Edward III, granted licence for them to retain the church, and they have held the said 1 acre, advowson and church without any other royal licence. The king, with the assent of the council and for 12 marks paid by them into the hanaper, pardons the trespass and confirms their estate in the church.
