Licence, at the supplication of the king's esquire John Norbury, late captain of the castle of Guyne, for the late soldiers of that castle and the soldiers of the castle of Hamme who have any right or interest in Philip Servulo, ‘chivaler,’ Matthew de Lisques, ‘chivaler,’ Robert Maylee, ‘chivaler,’ Edmund Chasseys, ‘chivaler,’ George Pasno, ‘chivaler,’ Ras de Rentyn, ‘chivaler,’ Guy de Drikon, esquire, John de Ramys, esquire, Ram de Lisques, esquire, Bastard de Waton, esquire, Denis Soukyn, esquire, of France, prisoners of the said soldiers taken at Robert's Gappe in Picardy and any other prisoners taken in those parts, to take the prisoners into England wherever they may please and detain them there until they are satisfied of their ransom and to take them back from the realm.

Grant, with the assent of the council, to Edmund White, who was lately taken prisoner by the French, and detained in prison until John White his brother came and was made hostage for him, and to whom the king's adversary of France, by letters of safe-conduct for one year, granted in aid of the payment of his ransom and the acquittal of his brother and other English prisoners there that he might come to England and return to France with a vessel laden with merchandise, and a merchant and five mariners in it, and sell the merchandise, and return with other merchandise of France to England, that he may load the vessel with merchandise, except armour, artillery and victuals, and merchandise pertaining to the staple, and trade as above after payment of the customs and other moneys due to the king.

Pardon to the king's clerk William Pilton, late receiver of the king's chamber and keeper of the king's jewels, and his heirs and executors and the tenants of his lands, of all actions against them by reason of his office; as the receiver and keeper is only accountable to the king in person, and he has made a full account before the king.

Pardon to John Burgoyn, ‘tailor,’ of Bristol, for all felonies committed by him, except treason, murder, rape and common larceny.

Whereas pope Innocent has made a provision to Thomas Elden, clerk of the diocese of London, bachelor in either law of the University of Oxford, of a benefice with or without cure at the disposal of the bishop of London or the dean and chapter or any parson of the said church, even if it be a canonry and prebend in the same, the king pardons the trespass in this and grants licence for the execution of the bull.

Presentation of Matthew West, chaplain, to the church of Drayton by Sibbeseton, in the diocese of Lincoln, void by the resignation of John Pountfret.

Robert de Kelsey, late citizen of Lincoln, was seized in his demesne as of fee of 5 marks yearly rent from all the said called ‘Tanneresselle’ in Westchepe in the parish of St. Mary le Bow, London, and 8s. yearly rent from all the tenement late of Robert de Colebroke in the lane and parish of St. Laurence in Jewry, London, and by his will bequeathed the said rents for the maintenance of a chaplain to celebrate divine service for the souls of himself and Henry de Galeys and Sarab de Eldham and for the good estate of Julian his wife and for her soul