

MEMBRANE 34.

Oct. 6. Westminster. The king's esquire Richard Fitz Nichol has shown the king how Thomas, [earl] Marshal, deceased, by letters patent on 1 April, 5 Henry IV, granted to him the office of the constablership of the castle of Brambre, co. Sussex, for life with all accustomed profits and commodities, receiving 20*l.* yearly from the issues of his lordships within the said county; and the king afterwards by letters patent granted the office to his knight John Dalyngrugge, deceased, by which the said Richard was removed. The king, because at the time of the grant to John he was not informed of the right which Richard had in the office, grants the office to him with the profits and commodities belonging to it for life so long as the castle is in the king's hands and 20*l.* yearly from the issues of the lordships late of the said earl within the county for life so long as they are in the king's hands. By p.s.
- Oct. 5. Westminster. Simon Kelly, 'tailleur,' staying in England, has letters nominating Thomas Bacon and William Kelly his attorneys in Ireland for one year. Henry Malpas, clerk, received the attorneys.
- Oct. 2. Westminster. Grant to the king's kinsman Richard, lord of Grey, the king's chamberlain, of the keeping of the lordship of Retherfeld with all profits and commodities as the king's knight John Dalyngrigge had while he lived, so that he maintain the houses, enclosures and buildings without waste and support all charges.
