

1409.

*Membrane 1—cont.*Aug. 14.
Westminster.

Grant for life to John Broke, in consideration of his good service in Wales and elsewhere, of the office of porter within the priory of Dorehurst, co. Gloucester, which John Porter, deceased, lately had of the grant of Edward III, with the wages, fees and other profits pertaining to it.

By p.s.

April 25.
Westminster.

Pardon to William de Grastenthuyt son of John de Grastenthuyt of Hotonroffe for the death of John Almane the younger on Sunday before the Conception of St. Mary, 7 Henry IV, at Hotonroffe.

By K.

April 27.
Westminster.

Grant to the king's kinsman Thomas, archbishop of Canterbury, to whom the king lately by letters patent granted the castle and lordship of Quenesburgh for life, that he shall have 10*l.* yearly for life from the petty custom in the port of London for the payment of the wages and fees of the constable and other officers, servants and ministers of the castle; as there are no issues pertaining to the castle from whence they could be paid, and the king does not wish him to be charged with this; and John Cornewail, 'chivaler,' to whom the king lately by divers letters patent has granted the constablenesship of the castle and 10*l.* for his fees as above, has surrendered the second letters and will surrender the first, which are accidentally lost, if they are found.

By p.s.

1408.

*MEMBRANE 35d.*Oct. 11.
Westminster.

Commission to John Mosdale, serjeant at arms, and the bailiffs of the town of Scardeburgh to levy the sum of 400 marks on the goods of William Percy, William Jonson of Scardeburgh, John Smyth, John Carter atte Monkes, William Byngley, John Osteller of Scardeburgh, John Cole, Thomas Baldok, William Frebarn, William Gardyner, John Symson, Thomas Bulwyk, William Brentyngham, William Suter of Whitby, William Flete of Whitby, one Skyryng of Erielyng, 'suter,' John Gardiner, William Wryght, John Wrauby, Richard son of John Carter, Alan Grennok of Whitby, Richard Malteby, John Armurer and Robert Bolbek of Scardeburgh and deliver the same to John Dordewant of Prussia or his attorney or Thomas Wodyngfeld, serjeant at arms, for his use, and to arrest the said William and others and deliver them to the said Thomas Wodyngfeld to bring before the king in Chancery. If they do not execute this mandate duly and efficaciously the king will cause the said sum to be levied from the bailiffs. Lately by pretext of an ordinance by Henry, archbishop of York, then bishop of Bath and Wells, Edmund, bishop of Exeter, William Rikhill and William Hankeford and their fellows, commissioners appointed to settle disputes with all of Prussia, Livonia, the Hanse, Campe, Holand and Seland, the king directed John de Eton, late sheriff of York, to arrest the said William and others and bring them before the commissioners at Westminster in the octaves of the Purification, 8 Henry IV, to answer the said John Dordewant for certain damages and grievances committed against him at sea, or if they could not be found or attached to cause proclamations to be made ordering them to appear; and the sheriff certified that they were not found and he caused proclamations to be made in the towns of Kyngeston on Hull, Scardeburgh and Whitby, where they had their houses and lodgings, but they did not appear, and judgement was given by the commissioners that the said John