

MEMBRANE 11.

May 21. Pardon to Richard atte Brygge of Barwell for all felonies, trespasses and misprisions committed by him, except treason and rape.
Westminster. By p.s.

July 3. Grant to the king's son Henry, prince of Wales, of the keeping of Westminster. the manors of Craneburne, Pymperne, and Mersshwodvale with knights' fees and other fees, advowsons, chaces, warrens and other rights and profits belonging to them in the counties of Dorset and Somerset during the minority of Edmund son and heir of Roger Mortymer, late earl of March, and so from heir to heir, provided that he maintain the houses and buildings and all other charges. [Radera.] By p.s.

July 13. Presentation of John Pydde, chaplain, to Th. archbishop of Canter-
Westminster. bury for admission and institution to the church of St. Mary, Merkyne, in the diocese of Terouane, in the lordship of Picardy, vacant by the resignation of Nicholas Coke, by the apostolic authority committed to him to exercise all ordinary jurisdiction in those parts.

July 6. On 14 February, 8 Henry IV. by letters patent (see Vol. III. p. 291)
Westminster. the king revoked certain letters patent of pardon to John Nettervill under the great seal used in Ireland; and afterwards by other letters patent under the said seal by the advice of Thomas le Botiller, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in Ireland, deputy of the king's son Thomas de Lancastre, steward of England, lieutenant of Ireland, on consideration that it was known to the said deputy and others of the king's council in Ireland that the manors of Doweth and Balygarth are not held of the king and the king had no profit from them for a long time past and there was no reasonable cause for taking them into the king's hands, the king pardoned to the said John all entries into the manors and granted that he and his heirs should have possession and receive the issues. Nevertheless the king revokes these letters, because on deliberation with the justices it was seen that they are erroneous and dissonant with right and law and emanated unduly, because the manors came into the hands of Richard II by reason of the minority of Elizabeth the daughter of Richard Nettervill and were committed to John de Homylton during her minority by letters patent under the great seal of England and especially because she has not proved her age.

July 17. Presentation of John Collynge, parson of the church of Little Westminster. Burstede, in the diocese of London, to the church of Stowelangetoft, in the diocese of Norwich, in the king's gift by reason of the keeping of the land and heir of Robert Aysshefeld, deceased, tenant in chief, being in his hands, on an exchange of benefices with Richard Tanney.
