of his right in the parts of Aquitaine and elsewhere beyond the seas and paid it to the treasurer of England for the king’s use, that they shall have repayment of that sum from the first moneys from a moiety of a tenth granted to the king by the clergy of the province of Canterbury in their last convocation payable at Martinmas next at the hands of the collectors in the diocese of Salisbury.

[Februa.]

John Mapilton, clerk, received the attorneys by licence of John de Roderham, clerk, until the coming of the nominators to Ireland.

William Dautre, late apprentice of John More, late citizen and mercer of London, and one of the executors of his will, staying in England, has like letters nominating Thomas Whittowe of London, ‘mercer,’ and William Cantelowe.

John Mapilton, clerk, received the attorneys as above.

Richard Denton, staying in England, has like letters nominating William Dautre and Thomas Whittowe.

John Mapilton, clerk, received the attorneys as above.

July 22. Grant in mortmain in aid of their maintenance to Richard Ingrith and John Hill, chaplains of a chantry founded by the king’s licence in the new church of St. Mary, Leycestre, to celebrate divine service daily in the same church for the good estate of the king and for his soul after death and the souls of the king’s father John, duke of Aquitaine and Lancaster, and the king’s mother Constance his consort, who is buried in the said church, of a yearly rent of 10 marks from the manor of Creton etc. (as on p. 417), with power of distraint. By K.

Licence, for 40s. paid in the hanaper, for the dean and chapter of the said collegiate church to grant in mortmain to the said chaplains for their habitation a messuage situated within the close of the said college between the manse of Thomas Suthwell, prebendary of the fifth prebend in the said church, on the south and a gate called ‘le Bedehous Yate’ on the north with a garden adjoining, held of the king in chief as of the duchy of Lancaster. By K.

May 24. Whereas John Gedon alias Janyn Deye of Southlennc, born in France, when about the age of twelve years was brought from France into England and from that time until now, viz. for nearly fifty years, has dwelt continuously within the realm and married an Englishwoman and had several children, and at divers times he has acquired a mes-