Membrane 22—cont.

the south from that stone placed on the south to the river Thames 960 feet and in length by the bank of the Thames from one stone likewise placed by the bank on the north to another similar stone placed on the south by the bank 2,820 feet and in breadth on the north from the said stone placed on the north to the river Thames 980 feet, as enclosed by metes and bounds, with all buildings on the parcel and any fisheries within the said river opposite to the parcel between both banks, and a wheel (routam) opposite to the parcel for taking fish in the river, all possessions of the alien abbot of Fécamp in Normandy in the county of Sussex and elsewhere within the realm, after the death of those persons who now have them of the king’s grant, the possessions of the alien abbess of Holy Trinity, Caen in Normandy, in the counties of Essex and Wilts, the priory of Oterton alias Oteryngton, co. Devon, pertaining to the alien abbey of St. Michael in Peril of the Sea, the possessions of the abbot of Séez alias of the bailiff of Adryngton in the county of Sussex, the possessions of the abbot of St. Wandrille alias the alien priory of Uphaven, co. Wilts, 110l. yearly from the farm of the priory of Lancaster at the hands of the prior during his life and the priory after his death, two acres of land in Yvele in a field called ‘Hwiwisse’ with the advowson of the church of Yvele and all manors, lands, churches, portions, pensions, alms and other possessions belonging to the same priories and possessions, all lands, meadows, rents and services which Alice late the wife of Edmund Fauconer holds for life in Worton within the said lordship of the grant of Edward III and which William Loveney, esquire, holds for her life at a rent to her of 8 marks yearly and which Henry IV granted to him for life without rendering anything after her death, a weir by Kyngston on Thames called Hammewere, co. Surrey, with a parcel of meadow adjoining as enclosed by the river Thames and ditches with all commodities, a dovecote and a parcel of land adjoining containing 108 feet in breadth on the north and 108 feet on the south and 108 feet in length on the west and 108 feet on the east in the manor of Petrisham, co. Surrey, a dovecote in the town of Hamme and a parcel of land adjoining containing 199 feet in length on the west and 204 feet on the east and 115 feet in breadth on the north and 102 feet on the south, with free entrance and exit and all other reasonable easements, and four tuns of wine of Gascony yearly in the port of London at Martinmas, to hold with all hundreds, manors, lands, possessions, rents, services, reversions, churches, pensions, portions, knights’ fees, advowsons, liberties, franchises and other commodities and profits without rendering anything to the king, to convert to the use of certain religious persons in certain houses lately made by the king within the said lordship or to dispose of at the king’s will; and grant that they shall be quit of any tenths, fifteenths, subsidies or other quota granted by the clergy or imposed by the pope in respect of the premises.

July 1.
Westminster.

Licence, for 10 marks paid in the hanaper, for John Wygemor, vicar of the church of Hampstede Ferers, John Linyall, chaplain, and John Grigge to enfeof John Romayne and Isabel his wife and the heirs of their bodies of the manors of Tydcombe and Haselwyk, co. Berks, held of the king in chief, with successive remainders to John Romayne and the heirs of his body, Margaret his sister and the heirs of her body, Maud her sister and the heirs of her body, and the right heirs of the said John Romayne.