accounts of divers moneys received by the said Roger for his wages for the king's last voyage in France and of jewels delivered to him for security of his wages for the second quarter of the voyage, and she is charged with divers debts of his for which she made security for payment; the king, considering this and the great losses which her husband sustained at sea and because she was ignorant how the wages were spent, pardons to her and her heirs and the heirs of Roger the accounts of moneys received by Roger for his wages for the first quarter of the voyage, viz. 45l. 6s. 9d., and all jewels delivered to him for security of his wages for the second quarter, amounting to 45l. 6s. 9d.

By p.s.

May 24. Revocation of letters patent dated 10 August, 6 Henry IV [Calendar, 1405-1408, p. 38], granting certain possessions to William Yheverslay. By an inquisition taken on 5 March, 7 Henry IV, before Thomas de Pykeryng, then escheator in the county of York, it was found that Thomas Colvylle, 'chivaler,' held on the day of his death in his demesne as of free among other things the manor of Uppesland of Henry Fitz Hugh, 'chivaler,' 4 messuages and 4 bovates of land in Thresk and a messuage, 4 bovates of land and a close called 'Laserte' in Cukwald of the lord of Moubray and 4 messuages and 4 bovates of land in Kylborn of the manor of Kylborn, and died on the feast of the Ascension, 6 Henry IV, and that John Percy of Kyldall, son of Mary daughter of John father of Thomas father of Thomas father of the said Thomas, was his kinsman and heir and of full age and on Thursday before the said feast rose in insurrection with Ralph Hastynge, John Fauconberge, John Colvyll and John Fitz Randolf, knights, by virtue of which the premises pertained to the said king as forfeited, and the said king by the said letters patent granted them to the said William; and afterwards at the suit of the said John Percy, claiming that he was not indicted or convicted of the insurrection nor made forfeiture, the king directed the sheriff to summon the said William to appear before him in Chancery at a certain day now past to show cause why the letters should not be revoked, and the sheriff returned that he summoned him by John Clerk and Nicholas Sunman, but he did not appear, and judgement was given against him.

May 22. Grant for life to Maud Frankeleyne of 5 marks yearly from the yearly farm which the weavers of the city of York are bound to pay to the king for their gild.

By p.s.

July 18. Grant that, whereas it was ordained in the late Parliament at Westminster that all alien merchants should pay for subsidy from each sack of wool or every 240 wool-fells 60s. and from every last of hides 106l. 8d. for the king's life, the said merchants now in the realm and coming into it for the next four years shall pay only such subsidy and custom as they used to pay before the said ordinance or statute, and shall have warrants and writs to this effect.

By K.

June 14. Appointment of Thomas Chitterne as keeper of the king's jewels, and grant to him of authority to deliver to all who lend to the king sums of money for his present voyage such of the jewels by advice of Henry, archbishop of Canterbury, as may be equivalent to the