ments of the bishop on either side and containing in front by the king's way 2 perches 2 iron yards and in length towards the south 15 perches 4½ feet and in breadth at the south head 5 perches 3½ iron yards.

On the east of the church of St. Mary, a tenement of Isabel Lardener lying on the east of the cemetery containing in front towards the north 1½ perches ½ iron yard and in length by the little lane leading towards Walpoollane 12 perches less 4½ feet and in breadth at the south head 1 perch; a tenement of John Clerc, a garden now in the tenure of Agnes Ingolf on the south of the said cemetery containing in breadth from the said little lane to the grange of the sacristan 13 perches and abutting on Walpoollane.

On the south of Walpoollane, a tenement of Laurence Swon, a tenement of Thomas Scot, four cottages under one roof, a tenement called Ketenes, two tenements of William Hornyngeseye, a tenement of Andrew Botery, a tenement late of Agnes Noble, a tenement of Thomas Donham, a tenement of John Smyth, a tenement of John Mayden, a tenement of William Denner, a tenement of Edmund Semblant in which John Soham now dwells, lying together from a tenement of Richard Rede on the west of Walpoollane to a tenement of Agnes Sporle on the east which is of the fee of the bishop and containing in front by the king's way 27 perches 3 feet.

On the north of Walpoollane to the grange of the sacristan, a vacant tenement pertaining to a chapel, a tenement of John Exton, a tenement of John Cook, two tenements of Robert Millere, two tenements of Robert atte Nook, lying together between a tenement of the cellarer of Ely which is of the fee of the bishop on the east and a tenement of Alice Lies on the west and containing in front by the king's way 9 perches 1½ iron yards and in length from the king's way to the palace of the bishop 4 perches less 1 foot; a tenement of Henry Cant', a tenement of Thomas Millere, a tenement of Andrew Thresher, lying together in Walpoollane from a little lane called Lardenereslane on the east to a little lane called Chirchelane on the west and containing in front by the king's way 13 perches less ½ yard.

On the south of Stepilrowe, four tenements of John Ros lying together on each side of Stepilgate, viz. two on the east containing in front by the king's way 1 perch 3½ iron yards and the other two on the west containing in front by the same way 1 perch 3½ iron yards and abutting together towards the south on the cemetery of the church of Holy Trinity and containing 1 perch less ½ yard in length.

On the north of Stepilrowe, a tenement of William Comburton lying on the east corner of Stepilrowe opposite the kitchen in the office of the almonry and containing in front in Stepilrowe 1 perch ½ iron yard 2 inches and in length on the east front towards the common market 2 perches 3½ iron yards and abutting towards the north on a garden of Thomas Salman which is of the fee of the bishop.

By K. & C. and for 6 marks paid in the hanaper.